Shouldn't be a single message for the whole party. Handel campaigned against Pelosi, not Ossoff. D's strength is grass-roots, local work

I hope Dems listen to one clear message from 2016 and Ossoff. Anti-Trump is not enough. We need a plan to change the game for working ppl.

Shouldn't be a single message for the whole party. Handel campaigned against Pelosi, not Ossoff. D's strength is grass-roots, local work

I don't disagree with that. I've always said it's not our message. It's the messagING, marketing. And there's a marketer in chief in the WH

Carolyn Boyle @accidentmystic ಜೂನ್ 21

Shouldn't be a single message for the whole party. Handel campaigned against Pelosi, not Ossoff. D's strength is grass-roots, local work

The Detroit News wrote a profile on me when I was 24. I asked my Granny what she thought. She said, it was nice. "Will they do something on you in the Jet?" Being noticed by #SimeonBooker was the mark of success in Black America for decades. Rest In Peace.

Putin to Kremlin aides after hanging up with #Trump: "It - is - working."

Bianna Golodryga @biannagolodryga

Trump reportedly initiated call to Putin to thank him for commenting on the stock market's performance under his watch (one of Trump's fav topics to tweet abt). Seems to confirm reporting that Putin receives briefings on Trump's tweets.

#McCabe was due to retire Sunday. Trump is the pettiest president ever. The same man who fired the SecState via Twitter, tried to deny FBI director a flight home on Gov plane and cut his Catholic press secretary from a mtg w/the Pope while they were in Rome.

ABC News @ABC

BREAKING FBI's Andrew McCabe fired effective immediately after investigation found he "made an unauthorized disclosure to the news media and lacked candor—including under oath—on multiple occasions." Attorney General Jeff Sessions announces Once upon a time I set up events like this for the Clinton White House. Can't believe the Trump ppl interlaced the US flag with the N. Korea flag. That doesn't happen by accident. Someone at the White House decided that was ok. People — this is not okay.

Martyn Williams

Who would have thought 9 months ago, after the UN speech and then the "dotard" statement, we'd see this.

The court does not appear to be an institution ready to help guide us through this period of diversification but instead one ready to bar the door, dig in and resist the changes the times demand.

Ronald Brownstein @RonBrownstein

A preview of coming attractions as US diversifies thru 2020s & all-male 5-member GOP #SCOTUS majority likely blocks legal efforts 4 more inclusion. From @WeAreUnidosUS "This confirmation undermines the integrity of this independent body & places in peril the court's impartiality"

The hunger of progressing into the 21st century is going to run smack dab into an American Apartheid determined to throw America back to the 19th century.

They got started with putting a drunken political hack on SCOTUS. They're into the retro thing

Not sure what should happen to #FelicityHuffman but I know 2 black professional women - college degrees / mothers / no priors - serving time right now for basically financial crimes. I'm sure the govt spent more $ pursuing them than the value of their offense. Just saying...

I usually like a big idea but like many disruptive ideas it also disrupts the protections an earlier generation of progressives put in place when they stopped politicians from giving out things of value (like $$) to voters during campaigns.

Jamal, come on you OWE it to voters to review Biden's events online from march16 (most are on youtube or cspan) then view a couple of campaign events in fall2012 this is cognitive decline, and it's A Big Fraud this can be settled easily with testing and needs to be NOW

LyonThe Myth Buster @SaddexAddinLe · 4m

The Buttigieg guy is just a mean fella. Where is going with attitude of lashing out his fellow Democrats when he can't take criticism? Beto O'Rourke has shown remarkable patience & civility in the debate. I honestly think someone should give civility lessons to Buttigieg

#Trump doesn't see any relationships worth keeping beyond their usefulness. It's all small transactions. We gave aid to the #Kurds and they fought for the U.S. in #Syria — deal done. In his view we owe them nothing else.

It's very early Jama. Wasn't Trump at 1% or around there in 2016? Wasn't Clinton the clear winner in 2016? Be careful with your facts because we've seen those facts turned on their head! This race is just getting started. 🙄

Jamal Simmons · @JamalSimmons · 4h

Trump was doing much better than that. He was leading almost from the day he announced. Obama was behind at this point in 2007 but moving up and he had an org in several states. I'm not saying who will win. I'm saying who has the infrastructure to be competitive.

Chris Thornhill · @ChrisThornhill · 3h

You're right. Should've researched first since my brain is getting old. Trump was up a couple months after announcing and never looked back.

The candidate who can bridge the ideological divides, I think is the answer. Warren is running a very ideological campaign which only plays well with hardcore liberals. Buttigieg is trying to outflank Biden for the middle despite his near zero polling with black voters.

FACT CHECK: @realDonaldTrump misleads again. #Trump calls @repAdamSchiff a #freak when everybody knows that the freaks come out at night and Schiff does his business almost exclusively during the day. #whodini #hiphopdadjokes should give their own transcripts of the interviews to contrast with Schiff's manipulated propaganda. House Republicans must have nothing to do with Shifty's rendition of those interviews. He is a proven liar, leaker & freak who is really the one who should be impeached!

Okay. Dems had politicians from Colorado, Hawaii, NYC, Mass, Ind, Cali, Del, OH — entrepreneurs, mayors, senators, Reps, we've had whites, blacks, Asian Americans, women, men, conservatives, liberals, a socialist. This has been the most diverse field. Now we need one more??

Quid Pro Quo

I know that members of this Committee have frequently framed these complicated issues in the form of a simple question. Was there a "quid pro quo?" As I testified previously, with regard to the requested White House call and White House meeting, the answer is yes.

Biden will be the nominee in the end. The thing I fear about Warren is for all the promises on domestic policy ideas, I don't feel there is seriousness on matters not related to domestic policy. I also think her GOP past would be a character ability similar to Kerry/Dukakis.

In his defense, old white people don't realize what a slam this is. I know several older folks that have used this phrase, who you would never consider racist.
try to explain to them that it's not a compliment, but it just doesn't equate with older folks.

A big reason why Warren has struggled with black voters is the fact she (as well as Sanders) didn't try to court black voters before running for President. Also, trying to out-tough Sanders with the Left didn't do the candidate many favors.

While I agree the #ACA gets a bum rap, I reject the critique of #AOC bc she's young or whatever. Young ppl always push for the most change — and that always seems naive or uncomfortable to the "more experienced." My point: don't exclude potential allies bc they aren't 100% down.

SallyAnn @sallyann216

She's wrong. She's too young (& hasn't read enough history) to comprehend how radical the ACA was (for its time) and how incredibly progressive it would have been IF the public option had been allowed as @BarackObama and @TheDemocrats intended.

But at this moment, our country needs more.
We need a president who can work the levers of government to translate ideas into signed laws and effective regulations. We need a president committed to bringing our troops home from open-ended foreign entanglements. We need a president who understands that the American dream itself is at risk: the ideal that someone who works hard

Yeah, I wish he'd stop calling Joe and Warren his friend and start calling Tulsi his friend more, and stick up for her like she does for him.

I also wish he'd speak up for Assange and talk about election integrity and the fact the nomination was stolen from him in 2016.

I don't think it would matter much as long as we keep the House and can flip the Senate. Many of his programs won't be implemented b/c of budgets (which is ballooning). Either way, if we can get it all blue we can at least begin to fix some of the social damage of this admin.

I don't think the Senators were only worried about Trump's testimony. Look at all of the other people who would be exposed if he confirmed that "everyone" was in on it. Mass resignations, investigations, and following the money would expose a lot of people.

The obsession of who "won" Iowa is absurd. If someone gets a few more raw votes than another candidate, or a handful more first-level delegates to go to county conventions, it is close to meaningless. The bottom line is in the first, small contest, Pete & Bernie did well.

I hate it as much as anyone else, but the president can reassign people who work in the NSC. Even if this weren't Trump, would any court overrule POTUS kicking someone out of the NSC because he's pissed at them?

No court will do anything to Trump. But, whether a POTUS is technically guilty of a crime or not, intimidating, retaliating against witnesses is conduct our system criminalizes. Threatening family is classic. A president who engages in it is far from taking care to uphold the law.

#MichelleObama wouldn't approve but I do.

Mike Bloomberg @MikeBloomberg

@realDonaldTrump we know many of the same people in NY. Behind your back they laugh at you & call you a carnival barking clown. They know you inherited a fortune & squandered it with stupid deals and incompetence.

Replying to @JamalSimmons

I think by now even Michele Obama must realize that the "When we go low we go high" thing doesn't work with ego driven, power drunk bullies, especially those with an army of complicit, corrupt enablers.

The trick in politics was always for Pols to let voters know where they were aligned to find common ground. Not to bludgeon them into giving up their beliefs to put your candidate in power. But maybe Trumpy aggression is the new persuasion.

Too often, Black moms feel ignored, terrified, and discriminated against while giving birth. All of this contributes to the Black maternal mortality crisis we face. It's time to tackle this crisis head-on, and I've got a plan for that. blavity.com/exclusive-the-s

To be clear, if Russia is following the same playbook as 2016, that means that African American voters will be disproportionately targeted.

The Senate Intelligence Committee knows that Black voters were the principal target of Russian interference in the 2016 election, & now the Committee knows that Russia plans to do it again this year. But the Senate still won't act on bills that would protect against these attacks.

So, let's call this what it is. The United States Senate is prepared to leave African American voters undefended against foreign interference and manipulation. It's a scandal of monumental proportions & the Senate Majority Leader must be compelled to answer this charge & act.

Enough with the conspiracy theories. It might be possible - just maybe - that a random distribution of tickets included ppl who were not supportive of some candidates and expressed themselves. Maybe some candidates aren't used to hearing from ppl who aren't devotees.

Xochitl Hinojosa ✓ @XochitlHinojosa

Let me give you the facts. The tickets were divided up between the DNC, campaigns (with equal a location), SC Dem Party, CBCI, CBS and Twitter. We invited local and community leaders, and DNC supporters. This is the most diverse audience.

Not Klobuchar, not a centrist like himself. Needs a progressive to offer more to Dems to his left. Stacey Abrams would be fun. Warren would give him lots of

What does "crowded" mean?

If you can't stay 6ft away from other people, it's too close. In general, when going outside try to stay at least 6 feet away from others as much as you possibly can.

I disagree. Anxiety about the market means nothing to the market while it is closed. When the economy "reopens" the market can reopen and the anxiety will largely have passed. Leaving markets open only allows for the wealthiest to do what they do best, hoard capital.

both Dems lowered unemployment/poverty and raised incomes/growth.

This point by @AOC is most important. Too many #progressives made enemies of reformers interested in their policy objectives but not their tactic. Or black ppl who questioned a revolution w/o racial justice at the center were dismissed w/ "identity politics."

AOC tells me the left must learn "political lessons" from 2020:

"There's so much emphasis on making outreach as conflict-based as possible and sometimes I even feel miscast and understood," she said. "And conflict is one."

It seemed like we were headed in a positive direction for years with diverse voices speaking in the news on more and more topics. But now it feels like we are headed backwards. Maybe this is a side effect of the Trump era?

It was a very good campaign, and Shakir is one of the reasons why it was.

Faiz @tshakir

I tried to run the campaign with the integrity that marks Bernie. It wasn't perfect, but we should be proud of it. The staff throughout all levels were talented, mission-driven people who often came to this from deep lived experiences. It was a privilege everyday to lead them

What is missing from the conservative analysis of the Michael Flynn case is the counterintelligence aspect. The DoJ and others believed Flynn was a national security risk and lying about foreign contacts proved that. So perjury is like the tax case against Al Capone.

Why would Mike Flynn lie to the FBI?

What were he and President* Trump trying to cover up that's even worse than a foreign agent taking a job as national security advisor?

It's noteworthy that those are extremely important questions, and yet totally irrelevant to the fact that he lied to the FBI and pleaded guilty in court twice.

Please stay on this @cenkuygur. I worry about some of our friends. For the ppl in the back: Biden is far better than Trump! Let's not make enlightened self-righteousness endanger democracy and the most vulnerable even more. We can fight with each other again next year.

Cenk Uygur ✓ @cenkuygur

For every leftist who thinks it's brilliant to sit out this election, I'm genuinely curious: what's your end game? Ok. Trump wins again and then what happens? When do you pop out of the birthday cake and yell "surprise" as you take over the country? How will that work? Can't wait.

I have the coronavirus. I've been sick for a week, and really, really fatigued, with muscle pain. So far, thankfully, no fever and my oxygen levels are fine. But I was super careful, wore masks, carried hand sanitizer. Haven't really socialized with friends.

Trump isn't exploiting the Biden gaffe to win over black voters.

Trump is doing it to suppress the black vote so we get so frustrated with our options we stay home.

I've been screaming this from the rooftops. @JoeBiden has the illusion that he is the people's island paradise, when in actuality he is only a safe port in a storm. Problem is, as the boat approaches the shore, we start to see that it's not as safe as it looked.

Oh please. He's been noticeably silent. He is not the voice we need. His anger and divisiveness and finger-wagging constant yelling for five years did enough damage, not to mention his toxic campaign staff who continues to throw gas in this flame. #neverbernie ever. Enough.

What could #Trump do? Be someone else:
bigger than the moment, visionary, patriotic.
Bring protesters/police/victims together & propose solutions his base might not like.
But to expect that would be insane. There's no Lincoln or FDR lurking inside. As they say, it is what it is.

The Bible was used as a weapon to oppress the black community during slavery. The held it like Trump held it and said God wanted black people to be saved and we must obey God's word. That was the worst move he made. Should have stayed in the bunker.

New police officers/new rules/more oversight: more tickets/fewer arrests, more peacekeepers/fewer warriors, less prison time/more restorative justice, more mental health evals for cops, more sunlight and punishment for police abuse. But yes, our humanity has to be centered.

Its demoralizing how the President is trying to obstruct justice before our eyes and it seems there's nothing we can do: 1) fire and attack FBI officials 2) drop charges against Flynn for lying to FBI 3) pressure AUSA on Roger Stone 4) fire US Atty investigating cronies. Sigh...

Every president we've had since LBJ has lost an election before (except Trump who came back from bankruptcy). There's a reason. They work harder, make better decisions and tolerate less BS. Once you've stood onstage to concede defeat you never want to have that feeling again.

Kimberley Strassel ✓ @KimStrasse

Oh, the memory hole. WaPo in Dec: Dropout Harris was an "uneven campaigner" engulfed by "internal turmoil" and "unable to provide a clear message." Today: a "vibrant and energetic" campaigner, and "vessel for Democratic hopes."

Tonight, Trump has called Biden both a typical, status quo politician who pushed elitist trade policies, but is also "a Trojan horse for socialism." This sums up the challenge Trump and GOP have had at finding an effective attack on Biden.

It will probably go down in history that the biggest mistake voters ever made was electing Trump. We could have had Hillary who was eminently qualified to lead the country. Instead we got someone who couldn't read anything but a piece of toilet paper stuck to his shoe Trump's fatally ill-managed Coronavirus response seems to have turned voters off to him the way Katrina destroyed Bush's political reputation, but pushing a janky science vaccine into the public for political purposes would turn incompetent culpability into intentional harm.

Conley very specifically not answering whether POTUS has been on oxygen at any point. Two sources close to POTUS tell me his blood oxygen levels dropped yesterday.

BREAKING: US gained back 661,000 jobs in September, a slowdown from the summer.

US unemployment rate falls to 7.9%, down from 8.4% in August and 14.7% in April.

The nation has recovered ~51% of jobs. There are still ~10.9 million jobs lost from pandemic.

We don't talk enough about the connection between pregnancy loss/miscarriage and abortion. People literally don't know that often the care for a woman after a pregnancy loss is an abortion. I had one after a silent miscarriage. We should talk about it more. Thank you, @GaryPeters

Lauren Kelley @lauren_kelley

This is a heartbreaking and too common story: you have a nonviable pregnancy, your body isn't miscarrying on its own, and you show up at a hospital that you might not realize has an anti-abortion policy, threatening your future fertility and even your life. elle.com/culture/career

I also had no idea what to expect, and didn't understand that it was an abortion because we have stigmatized abortion so much that no one - not even medical staff - referred to it as what it was

Thank you @melanieRNeman. We decided to talk about our miscarriage bc of how lonely we felt, only to discover how many friends/family had been through it. We ultimately didn't need "the procedure" but it dawned on us 10 min into the convo w/ the Dr. what she was talking about.

This panel on @amjoyshow that @TiffanyDCross just did on #IceCube and Black men during this election was phenomenal. I disagree with Cube on giving #Trump any benefit of the doubt but this population does need a focus along with the struggle of Black women. 1/2

I regularly pushed campaigns to put Black ppl in TV ads. The answer: Black women, children or older men. Ad teams rarely put Black men 18-40 in a general mkt TV ad. Did they scare white voters? And we wonder why Black men think nobody cares.

I've seen better ads from Biden this cycle. The ad with Black men in a barbershop is good. I'm a so good to see them host conversations with Black male influencers.

Agreed. But Progressive politics need to figure out what to do for young Black men and young White ones. The economy is changing, increased diversity is bringing simmering pots to a boil and Trump is openly pointing fingers at the wrong ppl. Not a moment for subtlety.

Trying to decide btwn DC at-large city council candidates. I'm a weird mix - for raising taxes on $250k+ incomes and expanding rent control and for limiting business regulation, investment in entrepreneurs and homeownership assistance. Raise the tide and power some boats.

If Justin Fairfax resigns in VA, could Gov Northam appoint a black woman LG, then resign and hand the reigns of the state over to her. I feel like that might be the best outcome at this point. Maybe Stacey Abrams could move to Richmond?

Keep calm. Be patient. Allow local elections officials to do their jobs. What is most important isn't the speed of the count; it's that every eligible vote is counted. Americans made their voices heard in record numbers, and their votes must be counted.

The political rules still hold: 1) Elections are choices not referendums. 2) They are more about the voters' futures than the candidates' pasts, and 3) most people vote their values not their pocketbooks.

Before the pandemic, last month's gains would have been considered healthy. But the U.S. economy is still roughly 10 million jobs below its pre-pandemic level, with a rising proportion of the unemployed describing their jobs as gone for good. apne.ws/yVdAPY6

It's time for a Marshall Plan for Moms — one that includes a monthly $2,400 payment to the women who are the bedrock of our economy and our society, and long overdue policies like parental leave, affordable childcare, and pay equity. My latest for @TheHill

The #Democratic coalition is a big family and while we all play different roles, each of us is important to winning. Of course we advocate for our perspective to be heard but no part of the coalition is more valuable than the other bc we can't win without each other.

I can help you raise money, if you want to buy your soul back. Sure investigate election illegality. Start with voter suppression laws that are aimed to keep Black ppl from voting, but don't undermine the Democracy you claim to love.

Of course there are elements of the institutions that are complicit but for most of American history the institutions defended white supremacy in function and in form not diversity and inclusion.

The difference btwn America in the 1950s and 2020s is that the stated position of the govt and corporate institutions is on the side of the broad, diverse, multi-ethnic, LGBTQ tolerant, women-ascendant American regime and not the white nationalist insurrectionists. That matters.

Here's an idea. We spent a lot of money building prisons to house all those low level drug offenders. How about we let out anybody on a marijuana charge? That should free up enough space for all of these insurrectionists and their allies.

We need pro-democracy Republicans to resist becoming an anti-Biden caucus and offer conservative ideas to fix America's problems. We'll argue and maybe reach some sustainable compromises. Otherwise Dems must end the filibuster and muscle fixes thru - and the cycle continues.

If they continue w sham impeachment and very real SDNY and NYAG investigations of Pres Trump. They will make him stronger and push him to run again in 2024 as it will be the only way to make it all stop. If they want rid of Trump stop pursuing and persecuting him.

This is right and even more true for many POC who don't have family $$ to subsidize Washington. Obama's blanket lobbying ban kept many good ppl from serving just bc they had to earn a living to pay loans and raise kids.

Ernesto Falcon @EFFFalcon

Replying to @DanRiffe @AOC

But it does explain why K Street snatches up many staffers and that it isn't because of moral failure. It is because it is damned expensive to raise kids. Non-profits don't have robust hiring options given resource limits and most pay too little too even if more than the H.

In this Dear Prudence column I gave advice to a woman who doesn't trust her boyfriend, even though there's not any evidence that he's doing anything wrong. He could be totally innocent but who cares!

s.ate.com/human-interest

That's worth really thinking about. But even without knowing the answers, I'm not very hopeful about your situation for a few reasons. First, relationships are supposed to make you feel good, and this relationship is making you feel bad. I'm sure when you were dating around, your hope was not to find someone who would have you feeling sick and exhausted and questioning yourself. Even if he isn't cheating, the stress is no fun. Second, don't think I've ever heard of a relationship that starts off with unmanageable jealousy and insecurity and gets better from there. I'm sure it's happened, but I don't think it's common. Third, don't believe you can strong-arm yourself into trusting someone. And finally, the best way to assure you never find a relationship that works and makes you happy is to waste a lot of time in relationships that don't work and don't make you happy.

But I know you probably don't want to break up because you don't have proof and are seriously @jdesmondharris I don't know why I'm responding but a history of failed relationships makes me sensitive to this topic. The other question she should ask is "if he was such a bad bet, why was she so interested in dating him?" Maybe the problem she's having is in the "choosing."

On this day in 1969 Neil Armstrong and Buzz Aldrin are the first humans to walk on the moon - what seemed impossible ten years before this, became a reality because of vision, commitment, diligence and working to make dreams a reality. Let's do that.

I'm not sure what it says, but it says something that in a govt with a white woman Speaker, a Black woman VP, an Asian-American woman leading the progressive caucus and another white woman conservative Senate hold out — the final negotiations are mostly btwn 3 white guys.

The Associated Press

President Joe Biden brought two pivotal senators — Joe Manchin and Chuck Schumer — to his Delaware home for talks aimed at resolving disputes that have held back the Democrats' wide-ranging social safety net and environmental package. apnews/UAV7mxs

This was an attempted modern day lynching. No one should have to fear for their life because of their sexuality or color of their skin. We must confront this hate.
